

College Defender™

Real legal protection for your college student.

College brings a lot of firsts, and most of them go fine. Some do not. A Title IX complaint, an academic misconduct charge, or a late-night arrest can put a college career at risk, and these cases move fast.

College Defender connects your student with a real attorney when the stakes are highest, and covers the everyday legal matters of student life too. You handle the enrollment and billing. Your student gets the protection.

WHAT COLLEGE DEFENDER HELPS WITH:

- A Title IX or campus misconduct hearing
- An academic misconduct or AI-cheating accusation
- A student-conduct case with suspension on the line
- A DUI or minor-in-possession charge
- A fake ID or disorderly conduct citation
- A lease, roommate, or security deposit dispute
- A traffic ticket
- Identity theft or a consumer problem
- An arrest, with emergency legal access
- Keeping you able to help after your student turns 18

College Defender™ Coverage

The campus cases below are administrative proceedings decided by school officials on tight timelines, not courtroom trials. That is why real attorney representation is the core value here, not documents alone.

How College Defender Works

- Pays covered attorney fees directly, so cost is not the reason your student stays quiet about a problem

Protection Beyond the Hearing

College Defender is built to do more than win a hearing. It keeps your family connected and your student steady through the parts of college no one plans for.

The day your student turns 18, schools and hospitals can stop talking to you. A FERPA release, a HIPAA authorization, and a Power of Attorney keep you able to help with records, medical decisions, and emergencies, with your student's consent.

Emergency Legal Access

If your student is arrested, there is a way to reach a lawyer quickly, so the first call is to real help and not a panicked guess.
